Fund commentary

The framework agreement signed by the United States and Iran allowed oil prices to retreat, thereby easing fears of a lengthy inflationary shock. On the macro front, growth remained robust overall in the U.S., while in Europe, the economy is showing signs that it is running out of steam. Inflation remains above central bank targets, supporting the assumption that key rates could stay high for longer than planned at the start of the year. In this environment, the market rise was rather disorderly, with Europe outperforming by a wide margin. The Utilities sector contributed substantially to performance via our position in Iberdrola. The technology sector delivered rather mixed returns, with ASML posting strong gains while Microsoft retreated. Easing rates and spreads also allowed bonds to contribute positively to the fund's performance.
