Fund commentary

The temporary (?) stabilisation of the trade war allowed markets to continue their rebound. However, investors are concerned over the magnitude of the US fiscal deficit and the new "Big, Beautiful" fiscal policy the Trump administration is currently mapping out. As a result, long-term rates have remained under pressure in the United States and in Japan. After almost closing down in April, the primary market for corporate bonds proved dynamic in May and was met with high investor demand. We were able to select several attractive issuances which strengthened the weight of corporate bonds within the portfolio. The financial sector continued to post strong performances after banks and insurance companies reported their first quarter earnings, we have kept our investments in these sectors. Our equity exposure fluctuated between 24% and 30% and was largely dominated by the European market.

Sustainable development goals exposure

This chart represents the main exposures to the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals and their 169 targets. Exposure is defined as the opportunity, for each company, to contribute positively to reaching SDGs, providing their products and services. This exercise doesn't aim to measure the companies effective contribution to SDGs, which is computed through our societal contribution (CS) and net environmental contribution (NEC) metrics. For each invested company, activities are analysed in order to identify those which are exposed to SDGs. For a same activity, its number of targets can vary between 0 and 2. The company target exposure to one of its activities is weighted by the revenue share gained from this activity. For more details, our annual SRI report is available in our ESG documentation.

No significant exposure : 23%
