Fund commentary

The most recent price indicators have highlighted persistent inflation in the Eurozone, notably on account of energy costs. Nonetheless, the ECB has rather tempered interest rate expectations. Investors are now anticipating only one hike before the end of the year. This has brought yields on two-year German bonds from 3.30% to 3.10% and somewhat re-steepened the yield curve. Long-term sovereign yields have entered a downward trajectory, with the notable exception of France, where public finances are a growing concern for investors. The 10-year spread versus Germany has now topped 150 bp. In this more volatile context, credit spreads have widened: +20 bp for BBB issuers and +40 bp for BB-rated issuers - bringing yields in this segment close to 5.7%. B-rated bonds, a segment where spreads have widened by almost 100 bp, underperformed severely. Paprec was able to issue a €525 million bond maturing in 2031 to prefund its debt maturing in 2028 as well as recent acquisitions. The bond offered a 6% yield for a BB/BB+ rating.

Sustainable development goals exposure

This graph represents the main exposures to the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals. Exposure is defined as the opportunity, for each company, to contribute positively to reaching SDGs, providing their products and services. This exercise doesn't aim to measure the companies' effective contribution to SDGs, which is computed through our societal contribution (CS) and net environmental contribution (NEC) metrics.
A company may be exposed to several SDGs to varying degrees: strongly aligned, aligned, neutral, not aligned, or strongly not aligned. The methodology is based on data provided by MSCI.
For more details, our annual SRI report is available in our ESG documentation.

No significant exposure :	58%	% of companies with no exposure (neutral)
Non-alignment :	2%	% of companies misaligned or strongly misaligned

ESG follow-up, news and dialogue

Dialogue and engagement

Imerys
We discussed the recent incidents that took place at the Glomel facility. Imerys claims these are due to human error, with no reported impact on the environment. The group has strengthened its risk management with a crisis unit, audits and a review of its procedures. It objects to the accusations made by Splann! on employee safety and is considering taking legal action for defamation. The risk is primary reputational. Glomel is of strategic importance for the European Union as it produces 25% of the world's andalusite.

ESG controversies

Multiversity
Vaccareno and CEO Durante, as well as most of the national press are facing an investigation for complicity in bribery in exchange for material goods.

Canal +
Canal+ is under investigation for abuse of a dominant position on film approval clauses during 2021.
