A selection of global responsible technology players

Sycamore Sustainable Tech invests in technology companies listed on international markets and employs an innovative SRI process. Stocks are selected with no regional or market capitalisation constraints. The ESG approach focuses on three dimensions: 1- "Tech for Good": for goods and services with positive social or environmental impacts; 2- "Good in Tech": for a responsible use of goods and services that will reduce negative externalities impacting individuals or the environment; 3-"Improvement Enablers": companies engaged in making progress in the two previous dimensions.

Fund commentary

May was another strong month for the technology sector, with solid double-digit returns. Performance was led by semiconductors, particularly memory and AI-related names. Software continued to lag overall, although infrastructure software was a notable area of strength, supported by strong earnings results and, in many cases, a re-acceleration in top line growth. Infrastructure software outperformed application software by more than 25% during the month alone. For our fund, we underperformed the benchmark in May, driven predominantly by our underweight positions in Micron, AMD, and Intel. Our strongest contributors were Datadog, Nebius, and ASML. Looking ahead, we expect continued strength in companies delivering positive earnings revisions, supported by the ongoing inflection in AI monetization.

ESG follow-up, news and dialogue

Dialogue and engagement

Delta Electronics

We discussed issues of board diversity as well as the gender pay gap with Delta Electronics.

Naura Technology

As part of the pre-GM dialogue, we asked Naura Technology several questions about the governance and implementation of Naura's environmental strategy. They questioned alignment between the group and its subsidiaries, integration into the business model, and the existence of climate targets and indicators, particularly for scope 3. They also address the integration of ESG criteria into remuneration, as well as access to information for investors.
